[19] MVC 패턴을 이용한 회원인증』

HttpSession session = request.getSession();

```
private void actionDo(HttpServletRequest request, HttpServletResponse response) throws ServletException, IOException { String uri = request.getRequestURI();
                      String conPath = request.getContextPath();
                       String com = uri.substring(conPath.length());
                       MService service = null;
                       String viewPage = null;
                       System. out.println("uri="+uri +" com ="+com);
                       if(com.equals("/loginView.do")) {
                                       viewPage = "member/login.jsp";
                      }else if(com.equals("/login.do")) {
                                        service = new LoginService();
                                        service.execute(request, response);
                                       viewPage = "member/main.jsp";
                      }else if(com.equals("/logout.do")) {
                                        service = new LogoutService();
                                        service.execute(request, response);
                                       viewPage = "member/login.jsp";
                      }else if(com.equals("/joinView.do")) {
                                       viewPage = "member/join.jsp";
                      }else if(com.equals("/join.do")) {
                                        service = new JoinService();
                                        service.execute(request, response);
                                       viewPage = "member/login.jsp";
                      }else if(com.equals("/modifyView.do")) {
                                       //service = new GetMemberService();
                                       //service.execute(request, response);
                                       viewPage = "member/modify.jsp";
                      }else if(com.equals("/modify.do")){
                                        service = new ModifyService();
                                        service.execute(request, response);
                                       viewPage = "member/main.jsp";
                      }else if(com.equals("/AllView.do")) {
                                        service = new MAIIViewService();
                                        service.execute(request, response);
                                        viewPage = "member/mAllView.jsp";
                       RequestDispatcher dispatcher = request.getRequestDispatcher(viewPage);
                      dispatcher.forward(request, response);
```